

IF IT costs less to make White Lead in two weeks than it does to manufacture it by the "old Dutch process," which takes four months, there's a bigger profit to the maker by the quick process, and it is only the property owner who suffers, because the White Lead which is quickly made is quick to succumb to the destructive action of the elements. For an honest job of painting that will last and always look well, use the

"Eckstein" or "Davis-Chambers" Brand of Pure White Lead.

It is manufactured by the "old Dutch process" of slow corrosion. You can get any color you require with National Lead Company's Pure White Lead Tinting Colors.

Congressman Doliver has been appointed to succeed Gear as senator from Iowa. The appointment runs to March 4, 1901.

Col. Thomas Wentworth Higginson, soldier, scholar and litterateur, has applied for membership in the Bryan club of Massachusetts. He says: "I have habitually voted as a democrat since the first Cleveland campaign, in which I took an active part, but I voted as a gold democrat four years ago. However it may then have been, the issue of anti-imperialism now seems to outweigh all others."

"One of the most significant things of recent occurrence," says the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette, "was the action of the German Lutheran synod at Laporte in condemning trusts and denouncing the tariff law as the cause of the unrighteous combinations that oppress labor. This is not mixing politics and religion. It is placing a question of moral import upon the plane where it belongs. If the church is not the defender of the poor and lowly, then it has departed from the mission assigned to it by the Nazarene, and the Lutheran church has demonstrated that the divine injunction has not been stricken from the constitution."

STATE FAIR.

Exhibit at Indianapolis from Sept. 17 to 22. The Indiana state fair will be held this year from September 17th to 22d. Many of the plans for this autumn event are now complete and the others well in hand. The success of the fair last year, when the attendance for the week and the number and variety of exhibits were greater than in any of the preceding forty-six years that the exhibition has been held, has caused the state board of agriculture to broaden the scope for this year, the departments having all been expanded and the premiums increased that there may be still more exhibits and added interest for the visitors.

There seems to be a question now agitating our farmers as to whether it will pay to sow any more wheat in this section of the country. Two failures of this crop in succession has discouraged a great many and they think the causes of these failures are beyond their control. The fly which is said to be the main cause has become so troublesome that unless there is some sure remedy discovered it will be absurd to continue the cultivation of wheat, and something else must be substituted to take its place. Rye is suggested by some as it always yields well and can be grown where wheat cannot. Another year will settle the matter one way or the other.-Knox Crescent.

So few people seem to appreciate the value of a friend and of friendship that it would seem that friendship were decaying. Women pretend to have friends and yet when apart from them will say the unkindest things of the very one whom they profess most to admire. Men seldom pretend close friendships, and when business is on seem to have no friends. But there are now and then cases of real friendship; mutual regard, mutual care for welfare, mutual helpfulness. If you have a friend, cherish him with all the strength of your nature. His kindness is worth more than all the pretense of society and of business associations. One true friend is worth more than all the world, when trials come and sorrows at the door. Learn to value a friend, and if you have one never grieve him by your distrust, or make him lament your neglect.-Ex.
